Since the announcement of the Prison Art Show, several Christian organizations (churches, camps, shelters) have called wanting to display Inmate Christian Art. Are you up to it? It doesn't have to be 'Christian' themed, children, happy faces, animals, anything that is geared toward 'family entertainment' and 'morals'. So, if you're interested in joining this adventure and having your art displayed at 'family orientated' events. Drop us a line with instructions on what you are thinking about. This is really an exciting time and a chance to showcase your talents and crafts. So, start painting, drawing, coming up with family orientated arts and crafts.

UFO's – Dreams – Paranormal

I am a "Certified Dream Analyst" and "Paranormal Investigator" interested in anything and everything about UFO's, ghost and the unexplained. I'm also a needlework designer that loves to putter in the flower garden. Be Warned! I am a full blown "Parrot Head" and follow Jimmy Buffett's music on a daily basis. Throw in a little NASCAR and that pretty well completes the picture. Would love to hear from others with similar interest.

Real Age Benefits

Health Tips for You Kids

.5 Opportunities to Shine

If patches of self-doubt are lingering in your child, here are a few ways to help them feel unafraid of what life has to offer.

- 1. Encourage your child to get physical. Exercise has a short-term positive effect on self-esteem. Find an activity that interests your child, and then make it happen by being ready with transportation, encouragement, and equipment.
- 2. Get help at school. Check in with your child's teachers if academics seem to be part of the problem. Some schools have homework helpers; others offer tutoring recommendations to help children get back on track with their studies.
- 3. Nurture healthy habits. A healthy child is a stronger and more confident child. Nip bad habits in the bud. Enforce regular showers, shampoos, and bedtimes. And check that your child isn't slipping into poor eating habits. At home, insist on eating fresh, healthy meals together.
- 4. Reward accomplishments. Emphasize the positive. If your child is discouraged in one area, make a big deal of her accomplishments in another.
- 5. Do something just for fun. Surprise your child with an experience you know she'll enjoy, like a trip to an amusement park or an evening at the movies. If unpleasant experiences with friends are getting her down, give her something unexpected to tell the world about, making her feel special.

Developing a healthy sense of self begins when your child is a baby, and continues beyond her teenage years. So be consistent, nurturing, and responsive . . . even when she says she doesn't need you anymore!

RealAge Projection: Learning how to take care of their emotional health and well-being will benefit kids indefinitely. If they keep it up in adulthood, at 50 they could look and feel closer to 34.

Meanwhile How Are Things?

Greetings and Howdy! The rumors of my impending death were greatly exaggerated! My only concern was some of the new medicines my Doctor gave me, he was very specific that I'd have to take these for the rest of my life. What he failed to mention was there were no re-fills and I had a thirty day supply. Just an oversight on his part. Ha. ha.

Meanwhile, a lot has happened in the recent weeks. The most exciting is: The Prison Art Gallery/Museum opening June 22nd in Canton, OH. Man oh Man that is exciting, if I were a woman I'd be moist! But, to add onto that, we got a call today that another Art Gallery wants to preview your Prison Art, in their gallery this weekend (June 2nd) before the big show in June. Wow!

And if that doesn't get you all moist and fuzzy, we've had some inquiries about churches and non-profit organizations wanting to do prison art shows with your material. Of course, this stuff will have to be 'family orientated' stuff, no bare breast or erotic stuff. Just family, happy time stuff, which is good also.

So, after eighteen months of waiting for some "strong-positive" movement, we finally have it. Took 18 months of digger through the bullshit and all the 'pretenders' to get it done, but we are just a few weeks away from being on the map. Thank You for your patience and understanding. Now, if you haven't joined 'our' bandwagon yet. There is still time, send your painting, art, crafts, whatever you want displayed to the address on Page 16, The PCTBP address in Canton, Ohio.

Folks our ship has come in and hopefully it's docking. The next time you pray, pray for our success and be thankful.

VERY IMPORTANT AND COOL INFORMATION

Hello ya'll –

FINALLY! The gates have swung open, the harp music resounds, and an invitation has been extended to display prison art and literature from across America in a primo gallery, in an elite location in downtown Canton, Ohio. This event is part of the annual Blues Festival here in Canton. The opening night is June 22 and the entire gallery is dedicated to all of you patient, talented souls. The people who are making this happen are key players in the arts of this city and they are as excited to find us as we are to find them. Awesome! Our first prison art show! It is only possible because each of you continue to trust and support the Project. Thank you for the true honor of bringing this show to the public. The show will hang through July and then decisions will be made around what happens next. Many thoughts around this.

Every piece of prison art in my possession will be professionally displayed and for sale, unless you have noted differently. The prices will be based on what you have requested and what the market will hold. I will be in meetings this week ironing out a firm contract on how the money will flow, but the majority of the sales dollars will go to you, the artists, and will be mailed after the show closes at the end of July. I will put this info out to the artists who have work in the show, as soon as I have it firmed up with the gallery. Every piece of art will be scanned or photographed before even being displayed to sell. This will allow for future books and poster sales, hence increasing the potential future revenue from each of your pieces. Those possibilities will evolve as time goes forward. This will also save copies of your work for your files.

There will be a lot of media coverage, state and national, and noted foundation and organization backings, so it is very exciting to think about the movement this is giving to all of the various facets of the Project. As soon as I am given the flyer for the show, I will forward copies to all of the displaying artists.

SOooo, now is the time to ship anything else that you wish to have in this show. We will make selections from the literature and try to represent and promote everyone. The jewelry, candles, leather, crochet, mushfake and other items of art will be given equal display and representation. I will be present at the gallery everyday through July, as your agent and representative.

We understand that this is a last minute announcement, but the Blues Festival was already in process when we were offered this gallery. As a result, new works will be displayed as we continue to receive them. There will, as a result, continue to be publicity and special showings for the gallery. So, continue to use the address below to ship any work and I will transport it to the gallery.

A Little Geriatric Humor

Reporters interviewing a 104 year-old woman "And what do you think is the best thing about being 104?" the reporter asked. She simply replied, "No peer pressure."

The nice thing about being senile is you can hide your own Easter eggs.

Just before the funeral services, the undertaker came up to the very elderly widow and asked, "How old was your husband?" "98." she replied. "Two years older than me." "So you're 96." the undertaker commented. She responded, "Hardly worth going home is it?"

I've sure gotten old. I've had 2 By-pass surgeries. A hip replacement, new knees. Fought prostate cancer, and diabetes. I'm half blind, can't hear anything quieter than a jet engine, take 40 different medications that make me dizzy, winded, and subject to black outs. Have bouts with dementia. Have poor circulation, hardly feel my hands and feet anymore. Can't remember if I'm 85 or 92. Have lost all my friends. But..... Thank God, I still have my Texas driver's license!

An elderly woman from Brooklyn decided to prepare her will and make her final requests. She told her rabbi she had two final requests. First, she wanted to be cremated, and second, she wanted her ashes scattered over Bloomingdales. "Bloomingdales!" the rabbi exclaimed. "Why Bloomingdales?" "Then I'll be sure my daughters visit me twice a week

Pet Lovers Beware

A burglar broke into a house one night. He shined his flashlight around, looking for valuables, and when he picked up a CD player to place in his sack, a strange, disembodied voice echoed from the dark saying, "Jesus is watching you."

He nearly jumped out of his skin, clicked his flashlight out, and froze. When he heard nothing more after a bit, he shook his head, promised himself a vacation after the next big score, then clicked the light on and began searching for more valuables.

Just as he pulled the stereo out so he could disconnect the wires, clear as a bell he heard, "Jesus is watching you." Freaked out, he shone his light around frantically, looking for the source of the voice. Finally, in the corner of the room, his flashlight beam came to rest on a parrot.

"Did you say that?" He hissed at the parrot.

"Yep," the parrot confessed, then squawked, "I'm just trying to warn you."

The burglar relaxed. "Warn me, huh? Who in the world are you?"

"Moses," replied the bird.

Moses?" the burglar laughed. "What kind of people would name a bird Moses."

"The kind of people that would name a Rottweiler Jesus."

Blowjob Etiquette

1. First and foremost, we are not obligated to do it.
2. Extension to rule #1 - So if you get one, be grateful.
3. I don't care WHAT they did in the porn video you saw, it is not standard practice to come on someone's face.
4. Extension to rule #3 - No, I DON'T have to swallow.
5. My ears are NOT handles.
6. Extension to rule #5 - do not push on the top of my head. Last I heard, deep throat had been done. And additionally, do you really WANT puke on your dick?
7. I don't care HOW relaxed you get, it is NEVER OK to fart.
8. Having my period does not mean that it's "hummer week" - get it through your head - I'm bloated and I feel like shit so no, I don't feel particularly obligated to blow you just because YOU can't have sex right now.
9. Extension to #8 - "Blue Balls" might have worked on high school girls -if you're that desperate, go jerk off and leave me alone with my Midol.
10. If I have to pause to remove a pubic hair from my teeth, don't tell me I've just "wrecked it" for you.
11. Leaving me in bed while you go play video games, smoke a cigarette, watch TV...etc.... immediately afterwards is highly inadvisable if you would like my behavior to be repeated in the future.
12. If you like how we do it, it's probably best not to speculate about the origins of our talent. Just enjoy the moment and be happy that we're good at it. See also rule #2 about gratitude.
13. No, it doesn't particularly taste good. And I don't care about the protein content.
14. No, I will NOT do it while you watch TV, smoke a cigarette, drink, etc....

PAGE 14

15. When you hear your friends complain about how they don't get blow jobs often enough, keep your mouth shut. It is inappropriate to either sympathize or brag.

16. Just because "it's awake" when you get up does not mean I have to "kiss it good morning."

Naming it....

A cowboy walks into a bar and two steps in, he realizes it's a gay bar. "But what the heck," he says to himself, I really want a drink." When the gay waiter approaches, he says to the cowboy, "What's the name of your penis?"

The cowboy says, "Look, I'm not into any of that. All I want is a drink." The gay waiter says, "I'm sorry but I can't serve you until you tell me the name of your penis. Mine for instance is called Nike, for the slogan 'Just Do It.' That guy down at the end of the bar calls his Snickers, because 'It really satisfies'.

The cowboy looks dumbfounded so the bartender tells him he will give him a second to think it over. So the cowboy asks the man sitting to his left, who is sipping on a beer, "Hey bud, what's the name of yours?"

The man looks back and says with a smile "TIMEX." The thirsty cowboy asks, "Why Timex?" The fella proudly replies, "Cause it takes a lickin' and keeps on tickin'!"

A little shaken, the cowboy turns to the fella on his right, who is sipping a fruity Margarita and says, "So, what do you call yours?" The man turns to him and proudly exclaims, "FORD, because Quality is Job One." Then he adds, "Have you driven a Ford, lately?"

Even more shaken, the Cowboy has to think for a moment before he comes up with a name for his manhood. Finally, he turns to the bartender and exclaims, "The name of my penis is SECRET. Now give me a beer."

No," he replied, "arthritis."

Cukoo clock

The other night I was invited out for a night with "the girls." I told my husband that I would be home by midnight, "I promise!"

Well, the hours passed and the champagne was going down way too easy. Around 3 a.m., drunk as a skunk, I headed for home.

Just as I got in the door, the cuckoo clock in the hall started up and cuckooed 3 times. Quickly, realizing he'd probably wake up, I cuckooed another 9 times. I was really proud of myself for coming up with such a quick-witted solution (even when smashed), in order to escape a possible conflict with him.

The next morning my husband asked me what time I got in, and I told him 12:00.

He didn't seem disturbed at all. Whew! Got away with that one.

Then he said, "We need a new cuckoo clock."

When I asked him why, he said, "Well, last night our clock cuckooed three times, then said, "oh shit," cuckooed 4 more times, cleared its throat! , cuckooed another 3 times, giggled, cuckooed twice more, and then tripped over the cat and farted.

Canton, Ohio

Canton Blues Festival, June 22-23, 2007, continues to grow in stature as an up-and-coming regional Blues Festival this year featuring headliner The Robert Cray Band. Downtown Canton serves as the backdrop for this free concert event. The Festival opens at 11:30 a.m. on Friday and 2 p.m. on Saturday with musical performances until 10 p.m. daily.

Praised by critics for his soulful vocals and instrumental artistry, Cray will be in good company when this two-day event also presents Jimmy Thackery known for his intense volley of rockin' blues guitar, and the very best local and regional blues groups and artists for all to enjoy.

Also featuring food booths, concerts, games and the first 'National Prison Art Show' displaying dynamic art and crafts from around the country. The art exhibition is being sponsored by a Prison Service Group, Pen Friends and Services, Inc. located in Amarillo, Texas. Several Ohio state inmates will have works on display according to Carol Briney, who is the Executive Director of 'The Prison Coffee Table Book Project'. "We have been waiting a long time for the opportunity to display the various styles of artistic ability found in the prison system," stated Ms. Briney.

The Festival opens at 11:30 am on Friday, June 22 and more information is available from the area Chamber of Commerce.

The bartender begins to pour the cowboy a beer, but with a puzzled look asks, "Why Secret?" The cowboy says, "Because it's STRONG ENOUGH FOR A MAN, BUT MADE FOR WOMAN!"

Page 3

A guy walks in to a bar with his pet monkey. He orders a drink and while he's drinking the monkey jumps all around the place. The monkey grabs some olives off the bar and eats them. Then he grabs some sliced limes and eats them. Then he jumps on to the pool table, grabs one of the billiard balls, sticks it in his mouth, and to everyone's amazement, somehow swallows it whole.

The bartender screams at the guy, "Did you see what your monkey did?"

The guy says, "No, what?"

"He just ate the cue ball off my pool table -- whole!"

"Yeah, that doesn't surprise me," replied the guy. "He eats everything in sight, the little bastard. Sorry. I'll pay for everything."

The man finishes his drink, pays his bill, pays for the stuff the monkey ate and leaves.

Two weeks later, he's in the bar again, and his pet monkey is with him. He orders a drink and the monkey starts running around the bar again. While the man is finishing his drink, the monkey finds a maraschino cherry on the bar. He grabs it, sticks it up his ass, pulls it out and eats it. The bartender is disgusted. "Did you see what your monkey did now?" he asks.

"No, what?" replied the guy. "Well, he stuck a maraschino cherry up his ass, pulled it out and ate it!" said the bartender. "Yeah, that doesn't surprise me," replied the guy. He still eats everything in sight but, ever since he swallowed that cue ball, he measures everything first."

When people say "it's always the last place you look". Of course it is. Why the fk would you keep looking after you've found it? Do people do this? Who and where are they?

When people say while watching a film "did you see that?". No loser, I paid 10 bucks to come to the cinema and stare at the fking floor.

New Stadium Lands Super BowlNASHVILLE, Tenn. – NFL owners decided to super size the Super Bowl on Tuesday.

During a one-day meeting at the Loews Hotel, the league's top executives voted to play the 2011 Super Bowl at the Dallas Cowboys' future stadium site, awarding the game to the North Texas region over bids from Indianapolis and Glendale, Ariz., which host Super Bowl XLII following the '07 season. One of the key issues that tipped the scales in favor of the Cowboys' new digs, which will be located in Arlington, was the stunning seating capacity at the stadium. Under the plan presented by Dallas owner Jerry Jones and the area's host committee, the NFL will have the opportunity to sell approximately 100,000 seats for fans to see the game live.

Bill Clinton started jogging near his new home in Chappaqua. But on each run, he happened to jog past a hooker standing on the same street corner, day after day. With some apprehension he would brace himself as he approached her for what was most certainly to follow.

"Fifty dollars!" she would shout from the curb.

"No. Five dollars!" fired back Clinton.

This ritual between Bill and the hooker continued for days. He'd run by and she'd yell, "Fifty dollars!"

He'd yell back, "Five dollars!" One day however, Hillary decided that she wanted to accompany her husband on his jog. As the jogging couple neared the problematic street corner, Bill realized the "pro" would bark her $50 offer and Hillary would wonder what he'd really been doing on all his past outings. He realized he should have a darn good explanation for the junior Senator.

As they jogged into the turn that would take them past the corner, Bill became even more comprehensive than usual. Sure enough, there was the hooker.

Bill tried to avoid the prostitute's eyes as she watched the pair jog past. Then, from the sidewalk, the hooker yelled, "See what you get for five bucks?"

The Biker and the Lady

A biker stops by the Harley Shop to have his bike fixed. The shop couldn't repair it while he waited, so he said he didn't live far and would just walk home. On the way home he stopped at the hardware store and bought a bucket and an anvil. He stopped by the feed store/livestock dealer and picked up a couple of chickens and a goose. However, he now had a problem, how to carry all of his purchases home.

The owner said, "Why don't you put the anvil in the bucket, carry the bucket in one hand, put a chicken under each arm and carry the goose in your other hand?" "Hey, thanks!" the biker said, and out the door he went. But in the parking lot he was approached by a little old lady who told him she was lost. She asked, "Can you tell me how to get to 1603 Mockingbird Lane?"

The biker said, "Well, as a matter of fact, I live at 1616 Mockingbird Lane. Let's take my short cut and go down this alley. We'll be there in no time."

The little old lady looked him over cautiously then said, "I am a lonely widow without a husband to defend me. How do I know that when we get in the alley you won't hold me up against the wall, pull up my skirt, and ravish me?"

The biker said, "Holy smokes lady! I am carrying a bucket, an anvil, two chickens, and a goose. How in the world could I possibly hold you up against the wall and do that?"

The lady said, "Set the goose down, cover him with the bucket, put the anvil on top of the bucket, and I'll hold the chickens."

What in the world does that REALLY mean?

"Boy, I'm having the worst time getting work done," I moaned to one of my editorial friends while we were shooting the breeze. "I've been sicker than a dog!"

"I understand," he replied. "I went to Taco Bell over the weekend and got a case of Montezuma's revenge that's put me behind on my deadline."

Later I pondered those phrases.

Who is Montezuma and what does he have against us that he wants revenge? (Actually, my scholarly son just explained that one). How can you shoot the breeze? And how sick do you have to be to be sicker than a dog? In our home, any time we're sick, we're worse off than our 9-year-old bulldog. She never gets sick, even though she eats everything on the floor, which is actually pretty handy since we have a three-year-old with a Hansel and Gretel complex. Whenever we're trying to find the kitten these days, we just look for the dog—whom we've nicknamed Hoover.

But no matter what sticky stuff the dog eats (even its own vomit, as Proverbs picturesquely describes), it never gets sick. So why in the world do we say "Sicker than a dog"?

And there are dozens of idioms I use every week—not even including the ones I know because my daddy's said them all the time.

You probably have your pet phrases and words, too...those that you utter and then wonder, "What does that really mean?"

Share your favorite phrase with us and we'll print the best ones.

This just in....

Lightening struck our satellite dish and I'm without Internet this week, while the new equipment comes in, so I'm having to revert to donations and pencil and paper communication.

So, this just in, in addition to the Art Show June 22nd in Canton, Ohio. I got a call today from "Sizzling in the City" a group in Akron, OH who wants us to preview our Art Show this weekend in Akron. So, YOUR arts and crafts are catching the attention of everyone.

A Woman's View

1. In the company of females, intercourse should be referred to as:

- A. Lovemaking.
- B. Screwing.
- C. Taking the pigskin bus to tuna town.

2. You should make love to a woman for the first time only after

- you've both shared:
 - A. Your views about what you expect from a sexual relationship.
 - B. Your blood-test results.
 - C. Five tequila slammers.

3. You time your orgasm so that:

- A. Your partner climaxes first.
- B. You both climax simultaneously.
- C. You don't miss ESPN Sports Center.

4. Passionate, spontaneous sex on the kitchen floor is:

- A. Healthy, creative love-play.
- B. Not the sort of thing your wife/girlfriend would agree to.
- C. Not the sort of thing your wife/girlfriend needs to ever find out about.

5. Spending the whole night cuddling a woman you've just had sex with is:

- A. The best part of the experience.
- B. The second best part of the experience.
- C. $100 extra.

6. Your wife/girlfriend says she's gained five pounds in the last month.

You tell her that it is:

- A. Of no influence on your affectionate feelings for her.

A Woman's View Continued

7. You think today's sensitive, caring man is:

- A. A myth.
- B. An oxymoron.
- C. A moron.

8. Foreplay is to sex as:

- A. An appetizer is to entree.
- B. Primer is to paint.
- C. A long line is to an amusement park ride.

9. Which of the following are you most likely to find yourself saying at the end of a relationship?

- A. "I hope we can still be friends."
- B. "I'm not in right now, please leave a message at the beep."
- C. "Welcome to Dumpsville. Population, YOU."

10. A woman who is uncomfortable watching you masturbate:

- A. Probably needs a little more time before she can cope with that sort of intimacy.
- B. Is uptight and a waste of time.
- C. Shouldn't have sat next to you on the bus in the first place.

From a child's point of view

1. The math teacher saw that little Johnny wasn't paying attention in class. She called on him and said, "Johnny! What are 4, 2, 28 and 44?" Little Johnny quickly replied, "NBC, CBS, HBO, and the Cartoon Network!"

2. When I stopped the bus to pick up Chris for preschool, I noticed an older woman hugging him as he left the house. "Is that your grandmother?" I asked. "Yes," Chris said. "She's come to visit us for Christmas."

"How nice," I said. "Where does she live?" "At the airport," Chris replied. "Whenever we want her, we just go out there and get her."

3. I didn't know if my granddaughter had learned her colors yet, so I decided to test her. I would point out something and ask what color it was. She would tell me and always she was correct. But it was fun for me, so I continued. At last, she headed for the door, saying sagely, "Grandma, I think you should try to figure out some of these yourself!"

4. When the mother returned from the grocery store, her small son pulled out the box of animal crackers he had begged for, then he spread the animal-shaped crackers all over the kitchen counter. "What are you doing?" his Mom asked. "The box says you can't eat them if the seal is broken," the boy explained. "I'm looking for the seal."

5. This little grandmother was surprised by her 7 year old grandson one morning. He had made her coffee. She drank what was the worst cup of coffee in her life. When she got to the bottom, there were three of those little green army men in the cup. She said, "Honey, what are these army men doing in my coffee?" Her grandson said, "Grandma, it says on TV 'The best part of waking up is soldiers in your cup!'"

6. A three-year-old boy went with his dad to see a new litter of kittens. On returning home, he breathlessly informed his mother, "There were two boy kittens and two girl kittens." "How did you know that?" his mother asked. "Daddy picked them up and looked underneath," he replied. "I think it's printed on the bottom."

Better Business Bureau Information

The BBB's goal is to successfully resolve complaints involving buyers and sellers in a fair and timely fashion. This includes complaints involving consumer-to-business and business-to-business transactions that involve the advertisement and/or sale of a product or service. Information concerning the nature and resolution of complaints filed with the BBB is used in developing BBB reports on companies.

The BBB strongly encourages consumers to first attempt to resolve complaints directly with the company, however the BBB will not reject a complaint if a consumer has not taken this step. All complaints are processed by local Better Business Bureaus, most often the Bureau where the company is located. Historically, over 70% of complaints through the BBB are resolved. In some cases, BBB mediation or arbitration may be offered to assist in resolution.

Your complaint will be forwarded to the company within two business days. The company will be asked to respond within 14 days, and if a response is not received, a second request will be made. You will be notified of the company's response when we receive it (or notified that we received no response). Complaints are usually closed within 30 calendar days.

The BBB reserves the right not to process complaints containing abusive or foul language.

While I was watching the football games last weekend, my wife and I got into a conversation about life and death, and the need for living wills.

During the course of the conversation, I told her that I never wanted to exist in a vegetative state, dependent on some machine and taking fluids from a bottle.

She got up, unplugged the TV and threw out all my beer. Sometimes it's tough being married to a smart ass.

The next time you think you're having a bad day, imagine this:
You're a Siamese Twin;
Your brother, attached at your shoulder, is gay, and you're not;
But, you have only one ass.

MATING BULL

A man takes his wife to the State Fair and one of the exhibits is that of breeding bulls. They come up to the first pen and there is a sign that says, "This Bull mated 50 times last year." The wife pokes her husband in the ribs and says, "He mated 50 times last year."

They walked a little further and see another pen with a sign that says "This Bull mated 120 times last year." The wife hits her husband and says, "That's more than twice a week! You could learn a lot from him."

They walk further and a third pen has a Bull with a sign saying "This Bull mated 365 times last year." The wife gets really excited and says, "That's once a day" You could REALLY learn something from this one."

The husband looks at her and says, "Go up and ask him if it was with the same cow ."

Subject: A Woman's Menstrual Cycle

A scientifically conducted study in Wisconsin showed that the kind of male face a woman finds attractive can differ - - - depending on where a woman is in her menstrual cycle.

For instance: If she is ovulating, she is attracted to men with rugged and masculine features; and if she is menstruating, she is more prone to be attracted to a man with scissors shoved in his temple and a bat jammed up his ass.

Three aspiring psychiatrists were attending their first class on emotional extremes. "Just to establish some parameters," said the professor, to the student from Arkansas, "What is the opposite of joy?" "Sadness." said the student.

"And the opposite of depression?" he asked of the young lady from Oklahoma. "Elation," she said. "And you sir," he said to the young man from Texas, "How about the opposite of woe?" The Texan replied, "Sir, I believe that would be giddy up"

Amazing Word Puzzle

This is a most remarkable puzzle. It was found by a gentleman in an airplane seat pocket on a flight from Los Angeles to Honolulu, keeping him occupied for hours. He enjoyed it so much he passed it onto some friends. One friend from Illinois worked on this whilst fishing from his john boat. Another friend studied it while playing his banjo. Elaine Taylor, a columnist friend, was so intrigued by it she mentioned it in her weekly column. Another friend judges the job of solving this puzzle so involving, she brews a cup of tea to help her nerves. There will be some names that are really easy to spot. That's a fact. Some people, however, will soon find themselves in a jam, especially since the book names are not necessarily capitalized. Truthfully, from answers we get, we are forced to admit it usually takes a minister or a scholar to see some them at the worst. Research has shown that something in our genes is responsible for the difficult we have in seeing some of the books in this paragraph. during a recent fundraising event, which featured this puzzle, the Alpha Delta Phi Lemonade booth set a new record. The local paper, the Chronicle, surveyed over 200 patrons who reported that this puzzle was one of the most difficult they had ever seen. As Daniel Humana humbly put it, "The books are all right here in plain view, hidden from sight." Those able to find all of them hear great lamentations from those who have to be shown. One revelation that may help is that books like Timothy and Samuel may occur without their numbers. Also keep in mind the punctuation and spaces in the middle are normal. A chipper attitude will help you compete really well against those who claim to know the answers. Remember, there is no need for a mad exodus. There are really 30 books of the Bible lurking somewhere in this paragraph waiting to be found. God Bless.

There you have it, 30 books of the Bible in the above paragraph. Hint, it helps to disregard the spaces between the words. Lots of Luck, what do you think? Thanks to Kenneth Brown of Valdosta, Ga.

I Lied – Here's the Notice Again

I promise this will be the last time I mention this, but TSOT does not have a PP list, we refer everyone to: Pen Friends and Services, P O Box 4076, Amarillo, Texas 79116. They have updated resources and information for you, just send them a SASE for information, or $3.00, or 10 – f/c stamps and they'll send you their newest list. They have lots of stuff and some great referrals for you, so check them out.

Thanks.

Their List J is due out June 15th.

Bubba's good friend, Luther, had gotten a job in the big city. Luther had moved his family up there with him as soon as he had rented a double-wide.

Bubba decided to visit Luther and hopped in his 1979 GMC pickup.

After visiting a couple of days Bubba said he needed some gasoline. Luther said, "Lemme show a filling station you ain't never seen the likes of."

Away they went out to the edge of town. A beat-up service station with only two pumps and a big sign that read; 'FREE SEX WITH FILL-UP.'

Bubba was all excited, had the attendant fill the tank and then asked about the free sex. The attendant pointed to his boss and said, "See him 'bout that."

Bubba asked the man who said, "Well, actually you've get a chance at free sex with the fill up. You got to guess the correct number between one and ten."

Bubba was on one foot and then the other, stuttering and stammering and finally came out with, "Uh, eight!"

"Nope," the man said, "but you were close. It was seven. Better luck next time."

Bubba and Luther then bought two sodas and watched as another car pulled in. The man driving had it filled, asked about his free sex and went through the same routine.

When he guess the number, the station owner said he missed it by two numbers and wished him better luck next time.

Before they had finished their sodas two other cars had driven in, filled up and had the same results...no winners.

As they were driving off Bubba said, "Ya know, Luther, I bet that there free sex thing is just a big rip off." Luther shook his head and said, "Nope, it ain't to rip off, Bubba, it's for real. My wife told me she won twice last week."

The Blind Man ...

A blind man enters a Ladies Bar by mistake. He finds his way to a bar stool and orders a drink.

After sitting there for a while, he yells to the bartender, "Hey, you wanna hear a blonde joke?"

The bar immediately falls absolutely quiet, and in a very deep, husky voice, the woman next to him says, "Sir, before you tell that joke, you should know five things . . .

First, the bartender is a blonde girl. Second, the bouncer is a blonde gal. Third, I'm a 6 foot tall, 200 pound, blonde woman, with a black belt in karate. Fourth, the woman sitting next to me is blonde and is a professional weightlifter. And, finally, the lady to your right is a blonde and is a professional wrestler. Now think about it seriously, Mister. Do you still wanna tell that joke?"

The blind man thinks for a second, shakes his head, and says, "Nah! Not if I'm gonna have to explain it five times!"

The latest tactic to drive the Taliban and Al Qaeda out of the mountains of Afghanistan is to dispatch a team of Good Ol' Boy Special Forces. Lester Ray, Bubba and Cooter are being mobilized and told three things:

1. The limit is two.
2. The season ended last week.
3. They taste just like chicken.

(That should just about do it, eh?) Page 7

The government announced today that it is changing its national emblem to the condom because it more clearly reflects the government's political stance. A condom stands up to inflation, halts production, destroys the next generation, protects a bunch of pricks, and gives you a sense of security while it's actually screwing you.

While on a business trip to Rome the CEO of Tyson Foods manages to be granted an audience with the Pope at the Vatican.

After receiving the papal blessing, he whispers to the Holy Father, "Your eminence, we have an offer for you. Tyson Foods is prepared to donate $100 million dollars to the church if you change the Lord's Prayer from 'give us this day our daily bread' to 'give us this day our daily chicken'."

The Pope responds, "That is impossible. The Prayer is the word of the Lord. It must not be changed as stated in the scriptures."

"Well," says the Tyson man, "we anticipated your reluctance. For this reason, we will increase our offer to $300 million dollars. All we require is that you change the Lord's Prayer from 'give us this day our daily bread' to 'give us this day our daily chicken'."

Again, the Pope replies, "That, my son, is impossible. As I have said, this prayer represents the immutable word of God and it cannot be changed under any circumstance no matter how good it may appear."

Finally, the Tyson guy says, "Your Holiness, we at Tyson Foods respect your adherence to your faith, but we do have one final offer. We will donate $500 million dollars -- that's half a billion dollars -- to the great Catholic Church if you would only change the Lord's Prayer from 'give us this day our daily bread' to 'give us this day our daily chicken, ' Please consider it."

And he leaves. The next day the Pope convenes the College of Cardinals. "There is some good news," he announces, "and some bad news. The good news is that the Church has come into $500 million dollars." "And the bad news, your eminence?" asks a Cardinal.

The Pope replies, "We're losing the Wonder Bread account."

Editorial/Personal Note:

Everyone, the time upon us to act and circle the wagons. I know it's been a long, hard two years for most of us. With all the moving, changing, alterations and politics we've had to endure. But, with the beginning of the Art Gallery/Museum, hopefully we are crossing one of the last barriers in getting the PCTBP published. I've spent my entire life savings/retirement on this project. Cousin Carol quit her job and moved across country to make this a reality. And I want to say I really do appreciate everyone who's stuck by us, believed in us and encouraged us along the way. This isn't by any means the end of the struggle. We still have to show the world that there is a lot of talent and gifted people that are incarcerated and they want a voice and a chance to be heard. So, let's not rest now. If you have already contributed to the Prison Coffee Table Book, then your work will be displayed for the world to see, if you haven't contributed, there is still time. Don't let your talents waste away in someone's closet or worse yet, no one gets to see it. Send your work to Cousin Carol with instructions. We are daily 'in the struggle', I've invested my health and all of time into making this dream come true, but I can't do it alone and I can't do it without your support and prayers. So, send Carol letters of encouragement and let's see this dream to the finish line. Love Ya.

MOODS OF A WOMAN:

An angel of truth and dream of fiction,

A woman is a bundle of contradiction,

She's afraid of a wasp, will scream at a mouse,

She'll tackle her boyfriend alone in the house.

Sour as vinegar, sweet as a rose,

She'll kiss you one minute, then turn up her nose,

She'll win you in rage, enchant you in silk,

She'll be stronger than brandy, milder than milk;

At times she'll be vengeful, merry and sad,

She'll hate you like poison, and love you like mad.

MOODS OF A MAN:

Horny.
Hungry.

Two rednecks, Bubba and Cooter, decided that they weren't going anywhere in life and thought they should go to college to get ahead.

Bubba goes in to enroll first, and the professor advises him to take math, history, and logic. "What's logic?" asked Bubba.

The professor answered, "Let me give you an example. Do you own a weed-eater?" "I sure do." answered the redneck.

"Then I can assume, using logic, that you have a yard." replied the professor.

"That's real good." the redneck responded in awe.

The professor continued: "Logic will also tell me that since you have a yard, you also have a house."

Impressed, the redneck shouted, "GAAAAWLLLLLEE!!"

"And since you own a house and a house is tough to take care of by yourself, logic dictates that you have a wife."

"Betty Mae! This is incredible!" (Bubba is obviously catching on.)

"Finally, since you have a wife, logically I can assume that you are heterosexual, rather than homosexual" said the professor.

"You're absolutely right! Why that's the most fascinatin' thing I ever heard of. I can't wait to take this here logic class." Bubba, proud of the new world opening up to him, walked back into the hallway where Cooter is still waiting.

"So what classes are yawl takin?" he asks. "Math, history, and logic," replies Bubba.

"What in tarnation is logic?"

"Let me give you an example. Do ya own a weed-eater?" "No."...

"You're a queer, ain't ya!"

What you heard and what I'm thinking!

"IN MY EXPERIENCE"...Once.

"IN CASE AFTER CASE"...Twice.

"IN A SERIES OF CASES"...Thrice.

"IT IS BELIEVED THAT"...I think.

"IT IS GENERALLY BELIEVED THAT"... A couple of others think so, too.

"CORRECT WITHIN AN ORDER OF MAGNITUDE" ...Wrong. Wrong. Wrong.

"ACCORDING TO STATISTICAL ANALYSIS"...Rumor has it.

"A STATISTICALLY-ORIENTED PROJECTION OF THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THESE FINDINGS"...A really wild guess.

"A CAREFUL ANALYSIS OF OBTAINABLE DATA"...Three pages of notes were obliterated when I knocked over a beer glass.

"IT IS CLEAR THAT MUCH ADDITIONAL WORK WILL BE REQUIRED BEFORE A COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING OF THIS PHENOMENON OCCURS"... I don't understand it....and I never will.

"AFTER ADDITIONAL STUDY BY MY COLLEAGUES"...They don't understand it either.

"A HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT AREA FOR EXPLORATORY STUDY"... A totally useless topic selected by my committee.

"IT IS HOPED THAT THIS STUDY WILL STIMULATE FURTHER INVESTIGATION IN THIS FIELD"... I am pleased to feed you bullshit.
